

Who Is...

Quantum Shift Media Inc.

What is Quantum Shift.

Quantum Shift is a 21st Century storyteller renewing the cultural values of community, care and interconnectedness. We have been inspired by research from the Max Plank Institute in Germany confirming our belief that people are more likely to take action towards sustainability when they are seen to be doing so.

For those who are already taking action, we will be their voice!

For those who want to act, but don't know how, we will be their inspiration!

For those who look for corporate social responsible leadership, we will be the example

Quantum Shift TV is an innovative news and entertainment TV station with leading edge technology, citizen journalism, creative and entertaining packaging, and positive, stimulating and inspiring content.

We will highlight the stories of:

- Human cooperation and survival,
- Solutions to combat global warming
- The positive impact of aid workers around the world,
- Perspectives and contributions of philanthropists,
- Corporate social responsibility progress,
- Environmental improvements and breakthroughs,
- And all other stories about those making a positive difference on this planet.

We aren't sugar-coating the news here – on the contrary, we want to talk about the hard-hitting issues of the day too – we just want to offer inspiration and solutions instead of sensationalistic scare tactics and get the public involved in telling their own stories.

It is time for a Quantum Shift.

Mission Statement

To shift this culture from 'me' to 'we' by sharing the news stories of those who positively impact social and environmental sustainability on our planet.

Vision

To be the leading worldwide news and entertainment media network that delivers stories of human potential, perseverance, hope, success and happiness, to inspire and empower viewers to be the change they want to see.
